

Python – Ex4 – Modules

Ex1

Write a module named ModA defines a “PrintText” function which receives a text and print it’s length

Write a module named ModB defines a “PrintTexts” function which receives an array of strings and print them one by one by calling PrintText in modA

Ex2

Move ModB to other location and run modA again. Verify that it works.